Celebrate Native November

Dear Educators,

There are many ways to teach about and celebrate Wisconsin's Native nations in your early learning space. Curate ready-to-go resources with help from us at PBS Wisconsin Education.

First, check out the Wisconsin First Nations website to search resources by age, type, and tribal lands. Then, check out a new Molly of Denali episode featuring a special segment produced right here in Wisconsin!

We're also excited to share a new opportunity to request in-person early learning support from our early learning engagement specialist, Jami.

Finally, check out a free course from Sesame Workshop on resilience-building strategies.

Happy Exploring!
